A FREMASON'S EPITAPH.

NEAR BAGDAD.

Tread softly here, or pause to breathe—
A prayer for him who sleeps beneath:
Though savage hands in silence spread,
The nameless sand that hides the dead;
Yet there, as wand'ring Arabs tell,
A guardian spirit loves to dwell!
His said such guardian spirits seek
The tears on mourning beauty's cheek,
And bring those precious drops to lave
The sainted Pilgrim's secret grave.

Tread softly—though the tempest blows
Unheeded o'er his deep repose;
Though now the sun's relentless ray
Has parch'd to dust this holy clay—
The spirit in this clay enshrined
Once mounted swifter than the wind;
Once look'd, O Sun! beyond thy sphere,
Then dar'd to measure thy career,
And rose above this earth as far
As comets pass the meanest star.

Tread softly—midst the barren sand
Lie relicts of a bounteous hand:
That hand, if living, would have press'd
Thee, wand'ring stranger, to his breast,
And fill'd the cup of gladness here,
Thy dark and dreary path to cheer,
O spare this dust! it once was part
Of an all-kind, all bounteous heart!
If yet with vital warmth it glow'd,
On thee its bounty would have flow'd.

Tread softly—on this sacred mound
The badge of brotherhood is found!
Revereth the signet!—in his breast
Its holiest virtue was confess'd—
He only liv'd on earth to prove
The fullness of a brother's love,
If in thy bosom dwells the sign
Of Charity, and Love Divine,
Give to this grave a dutiful tear—
Thy friend, thy brother, slumbers here.

PENCIL SKETCHES OF TRAVEL.

Letter IX.

76 Stone House, Tappan, Rockland Co., New York, Aug. 10th, 1846.

MY DEAR JACKSON:

This morning, my friend complained of feeling very unpleasantly, for he had seen ghosts all through the night, and Andre's ghastly form had been marching rapidly up and down the room, while the hangman had stood in front of the door. I thought the matter all over before going to sleep, and made every possible effort, to create a romantic dream, all about

"Clanking fetters, low, mysterious groans,
Blood-crusting daggers, and uncouth bones,
Pale, gliding ghosts, with fingers dropping gore,
And blue flames dancing round a dungeon door."

but it was all to no purpose, for I slept quietly, and awoke this morning very much refreshed. I aroused only once in the night and the rain was descending in torrents, while the lightning flashed, and the thunder roared, as if to shake the world below from its solid foundation.

The people of Tappan are so superstitious that they verily believe this house to be haunted, and some of them, in a friendly manner, advised us not to sleep here, as something might happen to us; but as I am not a believer in ghosts, and am never troubled by any such childish delusions, I was determined to sleep within these venerable walls, even though, by possibility, I should see Major Andre's form suspended on the gallows, in my dream. The landlord's son told us that there was an old man just above here who had four nails which were taken from the lid of Andre's coffin, and he further remarked that the old man valued them very much, and would not part with them on any account. Soon after this, he heard me say that I should like exceedingly to have these nails, and would be willing to pay a high price for them. He immediately answered that he guessed he could obtain them for about a shilling apiece; but I declined this offer of Agency, for I recollected that he told us only a moment before that the old man would not part with them. If I had given him the money, he would soon have found four old rusty nails about the house, and palmed them off on me as the veritable originals, if I had been at all verdant; but I was too much of a Yankee to be cheated in this way, by the little Dutch rascal.

You have no idea how many are imposed upon by the people about here, who are constantly disposing of old trash, as valuable relics of the Revolution, about which there is something peculiarly classic. "Old Moose" has accumulated considerable money in this way, and he told me of several of his operations which were really amusing; he was detected at last, however. There is a certain antiquarian in the city of New York, who pays almost any price for these relics, and he was anxious to obtain the lock and key that had secured Andre's room during his confinement; so "Old Moose" sent him down an old lock and key, informing him that there was no mistake as to their authenticity. But, by return mail, he received the startling intelligence that the key would not fit the lock. In his eagerness to secure the money, he had forgotten to try them, so that his ingenuity was not quite equal to the necessity of the occasion. He will not have a opportunity to dispose of any more antiquities to the same personage, I am confident, and he is aware of this himself.

In the morning, I called "Old Moose," and requested him to give me the usual washing apparatus; he accordingly told me to follow him, which I did, out to the back yard, where, to my astonishment, he commenced pumping, and very coolly told me to put my head under! I soon found that it was this or nothing, so I made my toilet, for that day, at "Old Moose's" pump! Ah, we all learn the world by degrees, and there is hardly a day that does not develop some new phase in society, or unfold some mystery in human nature.

We have ordered our carriage, and I have taken a farewell look at "Andre's Grave," "Washington's Head Quarters," "76 Stone House," and all that is interesting about this quiet village, and last, though by no means least, the greatest curiosity of the place, my friend, "Old Moose." We shall leave in a few minutes for Hackensack, and I shall write you next from there.

Yours always,

FLORIO.

SAV AND SAID.—Mr. B. did you say, or did you not say, what I said you said, because C. said you said you never did say what I said you said. Now if you did say that you did not say what I said you said, then what did you say?

What is it that pays less, in proportion to the trouble of cultivation, than any thing else? Give it up? WALKERS says the Pittsburgh Post.

There is one incident connected with the history of Monterey, in Nuevo Leon, which is not generally known. The streets of that city, was paved by American prisoners, taken by the forces of Gen. Arredondo, from Mina's unfortunate expedition of 1816, and cemented with their blood. These men who had nobly perilled their lives to obtain the Independence of Mexico, were taken prisoners and after being kept at hard labor on the streets of Monterey for months, were taken out, and basely shot, by order of the Government. There is but one survivor of the expedition, the Senior proprietor of the Matamoros Reveille.

We have been kindly permitted, by one of our friends, to peruse a letter, dated, Point Isabel, July 29th, but we find no news in it. The writer says the thermometer at that time, stood at 104 deg. in the shade.

Major Noah, in alluding to the cordial welcome home which the Philadelphia editors gave Mr. Du Sulle, says: "Out of seventy-five editors, reporters, &c., in the city of New York, there are not a dozen on speaking terms."

Editors, as well as other people, very often make themselves appear very foolish by refusing to speak to those engaged in the same business with themselves, and for no other reason than that of jealousy. We met one of this kind of things not long since, who was as maim as an Egyptian mummy, and looked as though he had lived on Frank Hammett's pickles for six months. He must have felt nice.

In the town of Deerfield, pleasantly situated in the valley of Connecticut, there are about 500 inhabitants. For two years—from July 1, 1844, to July 1, 1846, there have been only six deaths: three in '44, two in '45, and one in '46.

Green, the reformed gambler, has started a paper in Cincinnati, called "The Casket."

Letters from Warsaw announce that the Emperor of Russia, on his last visit to that city, promulgated his determination, to proclaim the abolition of slavery in all the provinces, where it still exists.

Statue of Stephen Girard.—The Elizabeth Bruce, which arrived at New York Tuesday from Havre, brought on a marble statue of the late Stephen Girard, executed by Gervet, a Parisian sculptor.

The Bangor Whig says, a Chilean ship, is loading lumber in that harbor for Valparaiso. Her masts are mostly mahogany, her spars of teak wood and capstan of satin wood. Ten of her crew are native Chileans speaking only the Spanish language, and are said to be good sailors.

The yellow fever prevails very extensively in Havana.

A Large Ship.—Grinnell, Minturn & Co. of New York city, are building at Boston, a magnificent vessel, now nearly ready to be launched. She is to take her place in the Liverpool line about the 6th of November, instead of the Independence. She is to be called the "New World," and will be the largest ever built in the United States. She is to be 186 feet long on deck, 28 1/2 feet hold, a regular three-decker, frigate built, with a tonnage of about 1500 tons.

The Van Ness case is to be heard next Friday, by the Orphans' Court, Washington, D. C., when the woman who claims to be Mrs. Van Ness is to prove the marriage she alleges to have taken place between Mr. V. and herself.

DAGUERRETYPE MINIATURES.—This art, this beautiful art of portraying the features so accurately upon plate, in so short a time, and with so little exertion, is indeed remarkable. How true is the saying, that every generation grows wiser and wiser. A few years ago, if we had been told that by sitting quietly for a few moments, with our attention fixed upon some object, we could have a correct likeness of ourselves, without the aid of pencil or brush, we should have spurned the idea as one too absurd to entertain. If a man living in Salem during the year 1692 had made this assertion, he would have been looked upon as a person dealing in witchcraft, and most probably have been condemned to suffer the same fate of those who were thought by our forefathers to have dealt with the evil one. In what a different light do we, in this enlightened age, look upon this science? True, to many, it may seem wonderful; and some, who as yet have seen nothing of the kind, scarcely credit the fact; but those who have seen, and who have in their possession pictures of their friends, drawn out so beautifully, would not part with them on any considerations. How much improvement there has been made in this art, too, since it was first discovered. Unwearied pains has been taken, by those engaged in it, to excel, and some at last have found their efforts crowned with success, among whom are Manchester & Brotners. Having visited their rooms, and examined their pictures, I can truly say that they are executed in a most elegant and admirable style.

How many there are, who having lost near and dear friends, think of the consolation it would afford them, if they could only enjoy the privilege of looking upon their features as they were in life; and as they gaze upon the daguerreotypes of others, so correctly drawn out, they sincerely regret that the time had not been improved before it was too late. And then again, we may have many loved friends, who are absent from home; how much delight it would give us, if we could but have their likenesses to gaze upon, knowing that therein lies no deception; for in pictures of this kind, there is no artifice—we have the true expression of a person's countenance. Who can allow, for a single day, so good an opportunity to pass, when they can, for a paltry sum, secure perfect miniatures of themselves, and of their dearest friends.

A GANG OF KIDNAPPERS.—Two or three highly respectable citizens have been arrested in South Carolina, charged with belonging to a regularly organized band of negro kidnappers, whose operations extend from Virginia to Texas. Great excitement prevails in Cheraw, where the arrests took place.

During the 17th century 40,000 persons are said to have been put to death, for witchcraft in England alone.

During the last twenty-four years, 798 persons have graduated at Amherst College. Of this number, 340 have become ministers of the gospel, and 33 foreign missionaries.

The city of Buffalo, New York, contains a population of 35,000, and is increasing at the rate of upwards of 2000 a year.

The distance by the wagon road from Independence, Missouri, to California, is 2,250 miles, with only one single tavern on the whole route.

There are at present running between Albany and New York, six evening, and five morning boats, all well patronized.

John B. Gough is recovering.

ARRIVAL OF THE CALLEDONIA.—The Calledonia arrived in Boston yesterday afternoon, at 2 o'clock, bringing ten days later news.

We are indebted to Mr. A. D. Grigor for the European Times; we find no news of interest in it.

Another attempt has been made on the life of Louis Philippe, by a man who fired two charges at him, though without effect. He was immediately arrested.

The Fire Works to-morrow evening, instead of this evening.

There is a woman now living in Moscow who is 157 years old. When 123 years old, this gay lassie married her fifth husband, thus proving that the instinct of the sex for commubialisation, hangs on while there is breath left. She is active and hearty, and may yet make her sixth venture in matrimony. Now we know where the real "oldest inhabitant" lives.

Here is a beautiful little paragraph which we find in one of our exchanges:

"If there is a man who can eat his bread in peace with God and man, it is the man who has brought that bread out of the earth. It is earned by no fraud; it is wet by his tears; it is stained by his blood."

It is rumored that Mr. Pickens, of South Carolina, is to succeed Mr. McLane as Ambassador to England.

MEXICAN SHREWDNESS.—The immense number of the Mexicans killed, made it impossible for our soldiers, detailed for the purpose, to bury them fast enough, and General Taylor sent over to Matamoros for two hundred Mexicans to assist in the burial. Some twenty miserable looking wretches came over in obedience to the demand, who were sent to hunt for the bodies in the out of the way places. After being gone a long time without returning, they were sent after, and found busy shaving off the mops and tails of the dead horses strawn about; the hair being an article of merchandize.

WOMAN'S TEMPER.—No trait of character is more valuable in a female than the possession of a sweet temper. Homo can never be made happy without it. It is like the flowers that spring up in our pathway, reviving and cheering us. Let a man go home at night, wearied and worn by the toils of the day, and how soothing is a word dictated by a good disposition.

It is a sunshine falling upon his heart. He is happy. And the cares of life are forgotten. A sweet temper has a soothing influence over the mind of a whole family.

Where it is found in the wife and mother, you may observe kindness and love predominating over the bad feeling of a natural heart. Smiles, kind words and looks characterize the children, and peace and love have their dwelling there. Study to acquire and retain a sweet temper.

AN UNBELLANT EDITOR.—An editor of some paper in New York very unbellantly says that he knows a lady who was twenty years of age ten years ago, and at the present time she is only twenty-three!

NOTICE TO QUIT.—A sure way to get rid of mosquitoes, prescribed one friend to another in our hearing the other day. Put on the walls of your room this notice.—Stick no bills here.

What, replied the friend, would be the mosquito's first exclamation at such a notice? Do you give it up? Must quit-a!

LORRAINE'S PILLS.

All persons require Health.
DR. LORRAINE'S CURATIVE SYSTEM
 OF MEDICINE is rapidly producing achievements never before known in the cure of diseases. The immensity of its wonderful results, alone demonstrate that its principles must be founded on truth. The relative proportion of Cures by this Medicine is out of all proportion greater, than by any other Medicine known.

THE THEORY is, that one blood beats in the bosom, and flows through the body of every man, and must be pure, it is the Vital Principle that sustains life.

Physicians, and people of every class are willing to come forward and announce, in the most public manner that they have been cured of long standing complaints—after another medicines had failed. In act there can be no doubt but that Lorraine's vegetable Pill is the best medicine ever offered to the public.

See a few public statements of men of truth and virtue.

Lynn, Dec. 17th, 1843.

Sir: I have sold all the pills I had of you, please send another lot immediately. The sale of Lorraine's vegetable Pills is rapidly on the increase, they are becoming very popular. I sell more and more every day. As a curative medicine and purifier of the blood, I think they stand unrivalled. One fact I have noticed, that no one that has used them finds any fault with them; they have wrought some very great cures. One lady, who has been confined to the house and bed, a great part of the time, for twenty years, is now cured and able to work most of her time, after having taken 3 boxes only of Lorraine's Pills! I might name many other cases where the cures have been as great, but have not time.

Yours respectfully,
 J. E. F. MARSH.

Portland, Me., Nov. 7th, 1843.

Sir: Please send us one gross of Lorraine's Pills; we have sold all we had last. They have given very good satisfaction, better than any other pills which we have in our market. I think in a short time they will take the place of others. We have had no fault found with them whatever; but, on the contrary, they have been praised loudly. I think we could have quite a number of highly respectable certificates from our clients.

Yours respectfully,
 E. MASON.

Chelsea, Jan. 3d, 1844.

Sir: I transmit to you an account of my case for publication, believing it to be my duty. I have been confined with the Rheumatism nearly the whole winter, have had some of the best physicians of Boston and could get nothing that would relieve me more than temporarily. I heard of the wonderful virtue of Lorraine's Pills, I had no faith whatever, but I took them, and it is a solemn fact that when I had taken but eight pills, my Rheumatism had entirely left me, and I have remained well ever since.

N. B. I never took more than one pill at a time and that on going to bed.

Yours respectfully,
 W. M. HALSTAL.

OPINION OF A SKILLFUL PHYSICIAN.

Sir, the operation of Lorraine's Pills is past any philosophy to find out, how so small a Pill can produce such wonderful effects. I find that one of them will operate more than 3 or 4 of any other Pill, yet in their operation, mild, gentle and comforting. On this account, they are more than 100 per cent, cheaper, as physis, than any other Medicine I know of.

These Pills are now acknowledged by thousands who take them daily, to be the only medicine that fairly takes the banner from all others. This extraordinary medicine has actually done wonders within one year past. They cause no pain or uneasiness of any kind in their operation, and require no other change of diet or care of any kind.

The attention of the reader is respectfully called to the important results from the use of these Pills. It will be seen, however great achievements have heretofore been made by the use of this invaluable medicine, still greater and more remarkable cures daily happen.

CORNS!
MADAM BERNARD, Corn Doctor, (from Paris) politely announces her arrival from N. York, to the citizens and visitors of Newport, and will feel obliged to those who will honor her with a call, at Mr. ELISHA S. KENYON'S, corner of Thames and Young-streets, the honor to inform the public that, by a new and peculiar method, she extracts Hard and Soft Corns, Bunions, Callosities, &c., Without Cutting.

Madam B. does not attempt to offer a nostrum, requiring secrecy or faith to require its efficacy, but confidently assuring those who may suffer from troublesome and painful Corns, that they may have their satisfaction of carrying away their tormentor, in their hands.

Madam B. has been practising in the U. States for six years, and in that time she has received testimonials from some of the most eminent Ladies and gentlemen, as to the benefit and comfort which they have received since their feet have been attended to by her. The operation will not occupy more than 10 minutes, and the relief is so instantaneous that persons thus treated can put on their shoes and walk without the least inconvenience.

Madam B. has practised her profession for several years in Boston, New York, Germany, France, and England, and has acquired much skill, and great practical experience—a fact attested by numerous certificates from the most celebrated physicians both of Europe and America, as well as from the nobility and gentry of those countries, delivered to her after four months' cure.

Ladies and gentlemen will be waited upon at their residence.

Ladies and gentlemen who wish Madam B's services, are invited to call as soon as possible.

Madam B. has in her possession upwards of 1,500 certificates.

From the Philadelphia Enquirer and Courier RELIEF TO THE AFFLICTED.—We alluded a few days since to the remarkable, efficacious and painless method adopted by Madam Bernard, of 459 Broadway, N. Y. and 151 Court street, Boston, in extracting Corns and curing troublesome Tumors of the feet. We are now induced to refer again to the subject, partly in consequence of more than one friend having called upon us to record their testimony as to the sudden and entire relief they have experienced from the operation of Professor, and chiefly because so many persons are in the habit of advertising remedies for Corns, &c., which are more empiricism and pretence. The parties who are now in our office, and who have been under the treatment of Madam Bernard, assures us that they did not experience the slightest pain during the process of extraction, and that it was accomplished with an almost magical celerity. We observe also that some of the most eminent Physicians, both of Boston and New York, as well as of this city, have given testimonials to the above effect to Madam Bernard; the writers having experienced a relief from Corns, which had pained them for years. From the Boston Atlas.

Madam Bernard, at 151 Court street, is said by those who have experienced relief at her hands, to effect a radical cure of the most inveterate corns. There is said to be no mistake about it. It is a great discovery, and we recommend all the afflicted to try.

From the Brooklyn Daily Advertiser.

A BEAUTIFUL YOUNG LADY residing in W. street in this city, has received great and unexpected benefit from the use of that excellent specific RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP. Some few weeks since she was on a visit to some of her relatives in South New Jersey, where she was very severely bitten by mosquitoes, being at the same time very much exposed to the scorching rays of the Sun, she experienced great pain and irritation from the effects of the mosquito, and much annoyance from the unnatural darkness of her tanned complexion. We recommended her to use that excellent Medicated Compound, RADWAY'S CHINESE MEDICATED SOAP, she complied with our request, and in three days there was not a single spot, blemish, pimple or blotch left upon her skin, and her complexion is now as fair as the lily.

Ladies, secure without delay a cake of this estimable Soap, it will purify your skin, improve your complexion and remove all disfigurements entirely from the surface of your system. Price 12 1/2 cents per cake. Sold in Newport by R. J. TAYLOR, Agent.
